

Wedding Ceremonies at Fort Willow

Rustic and elegant weddings rooted in tradition

Fort Willow Conservation Area is gem hidden in the heart of Simcoe County. Located in Springwater Township, the fort marks the end of the historic Nine Mile Portage trail from Kempenfelt Bay, and is designated as a national historic site.

The site features detailed outlines of the original fort and interpretive signs highlighting the history of the site and the surrounding area. The fort is open to the public year-round for casual recreation including hiking and snowshoeing.

The location features a soaring post-and-beam pavilion that makes for a beautiful setting for an outdoor wedding. There are accessible outhouses, but no running water or hydro at the site.
